

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

An optical compensatory sheet comprises a transparent support and an optically anisotropic layer. The optically
5 anisotropic layer is formed from liquid crystal molecules and monomers having four or more double bonds. The monomers are polymerized to form a polymer in the optically anisotropic layer.

10052440-012302